MEDIA RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: February 14, 2008

CSC LAUNCHES NEW EDUCATION WEBSITE AT WWW.CURRICULUM.ORG

Curriculum Services Canada (CSC) introduces a brand new interactive and user-friendly website at the same URL—www.curriculum.org—but now brighter and more engaging. More features make it easier for teachers and educators to access loads of quality-assured classroom and web-based professional learning resources.

A more dynamic search engine allows users to easily find evaluated supplementary classroom resources, both teacher-developed and commercial products, as well as professional learning resources like webcasts available for purchase or online as video-on-demand. Go for a more advanced search and search our classroom resources by keyword, grade, or subject—the choice is yours!

But that's not all—we've added a web-based Learning Community for increased collaboration among teachers and educators. CSC's Learning Community is a place to post needs, share ideas, and connect with Canadian colleagues. As members, users will benefit by meeting other teachers across Canada, sharing ideas and experiences, and discussing important matters in education. That means more access to valuable information and resources.

The new site also marks the launch of our "Honour Roll", which features the names of favourite teachers. For every donation made to our charity—The Curriculum Foundation (TCF) donors can honour their favourite teacher online by simply submitting the teacher's name along with a short message.

To learn more about Curriculum Services Canada (CSC) and its affiliate The Curriculum Foundation (TCF), visit us on the web at www.curriculum.org.

Curriculum Services Canada (CSC) is the Pan-Canadian standards agency for quality assurance in learning products and programs. The Curriculum Foundation (TCF) is the learning resource charity of CSC, which helps fund grants for teachers to develop vitally needed classroom resources.
